REPORT ON JOSHI MEDICODE TECHNOLOGIES CAMPUS VISIT

Date: 12 MARCH 2019

Venue: Auditorium, SNVPMV

Organized by: Department of Pharmacy Practice

Number of Participants: 50

The purpose of this report is to document the campus visit to Joshi Medicode Technology by our students and to highlight the insights gained for career guidance in the field of medical coding.

A group of students from our campus participated in a visit to Joshi Medicode Technology, a renowned institute specializing in medical coding training. Joshi Medicode Technology is known for its comprehensive approach to teaching, focusing on skill development and confidence-building to prepare individuals for various medical coding exams. The students were given a detailed overview in the field of medical coding, its significance in healthcare, and the various coding exams offered by Joshi Medicode Technology.

A dedicated question and answer session allowed our students to clarify doubts and gain deeper insights into the intricacies of medical coding, the training program, and the industry. The students expressed positive feedback regarding the visit. They appreciated the holistic approach to learning, the versatility in training modes, and the emphasis on real-world application of coding skills. The exposure to industry professionals and the detailed information on various coding exams were particularly valuable for those considering a career in medical coding.

Conclusion: The visit to Joshi Medicode Technology provided our students with valuable insights into the world of medical coding and enhanced their understanding of the skills and qualifications required for a successful career in this field. We look forward to exploring potential avenues for collaboration and ensuring our students receive the best possible guidance for their future careers.
