Programme Report: Seminar on Values in Medical Ethics

Date: 12th July 2021, Venue: Auditorium, SNVPMV, Number of Participants: 50

SNVPMV successfully hosted a thought-provoking seminar titled "Values in Medical Ethics" on July 12th, 2021, in the college auditorium. The seminar, meticulously organized by the Department of Pharmacology under the guidance of Dr. V. Asha Jyothi, aimed to equip students, researchers, and faculty with a strong foundation in the ethical principles guiding medical practice.

Dr. N. Srinivas, a renowned educator and medical ethics expert, graced the occasion as the keynote speaker. In his insightful presentation, he delved into the core values that underpin ethical decision-making in healthcare. He explored:

- The fundamental principles of medical ethics, including autonomy, beneficence, non-maleficence, and justice.
- The application of these principles in real-world clinical scenarios, such as informed consent, end-of-life care, resource allocation, and patient confidentiality.
- The challenges and dilemmas faced by healthcare professionals in navigating ethical conflicts and complex moral situations.
- The importance of developing robust ethical reasoning skills and maintaining cultural sensitivity in medical practice.

Sir's presentation was rich with practical examples and case studies, prompting critical reflection on the ethical considerations present in diverse healthcare situations. He emphasized the need for continuous ethical reflection and professional development to uphold the highest standards of patient care and ensure responsible decision-making.

Following the presentation, an engaging Q&A session allowed participants to clarify their understanding of specific ethical principles and discuss their application in specific medical contexts.

Dr. V. Asha Jyothi, the coordinator, expressed her gratitude to all participants and speakers for their valuable contributions to the seminar's success.

- Dr. N. Srinivas, Professor & Director, Sarojini Naidu Vanita Pharmacy Maha Vidyalaya, Tarnaka, Secunderabad.

SNVPMV successfully hosted a thought-provoking seminar titled "Regulatory Challenges and Solutions for Pharma Entrepreneurs" on September 13th, 2021, in the college auditorium. The seminar, meticulously organized by the Department of Pharmaceutical Analysis under the guidance of Mrs. Indira Rani, aimed to equip aspiring and established pharma entrepreneurs with the knowledge and strategies necessary to navigate the complex regulatory landscape of the pharmaceutical industry.

Dr. N. Srinivas, a renowned academic and seasoned industry expert, graced the occasion as the keynote speaker. In his insightful presentation, Dr. Srinivas delved into the intricate web of regulations governing pharmaceutical development, manufacturing, and marketing. He covered:

- Key regulatory bodies and their roles in ensuring drug safety, efficacy, and quality.
- Pre-clinical and clinical trial requirements, including Good Laboratory Practice (GLP) and Good Clinical Practice (GCP) guidelines.
- Drug registration procedures, market authorization processes, and regulatory compliance strategies.
- Financial and technological challenges faced by pharma entrepreneurs and strategies for overcoming them.
- Best practices for building effective relationships with regulatory agencies and maintaining regulatory compliance.

Dr. Srinivas' presentation was enriched with real-world examples and case studies, showcasing the practical intricacies of navigating regulatory hurdles and achieving success in the competitive pharmaceutical market. He emphasized the importance of meticulous planning, expert guidance, and a comprehensive understanding of regulatory requirements to bring innovative drugs to market. Following the presentation, an engaging Q&A session provided participants with the opportunity to address specific concerns and seek further clarification on regulatory challenges related to their own entrepreneurial

Report on Seminar on Research Methodology - Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis

Date: 11th October 2021, Venue: Auditorium, SNVPMV, Number of Participants: 50

Keynote Speaker: Dr. N. Dinesh, Research Scientist, CSIR-CCMB, Hyderabad.

SNVPMV hosted a thought-provoking seminar titled "Research Methodology - Qualitative and Quantitative Analysis" on October 11th 2021, in the college auditorium. The seminar, meticulously organized by the Department of Pharmacognosy under the guidance of Dr. P. Praneetha, aimed to equip students, researchers, and faculty with the theoretical knowledge and practical skills required to conduct robust and impactful research.

Dr. N. Dinesh, a renowned scientist at CSIR-CCMB, graced the occasion as the keynote speaker. In his insightful presentation, Dr. Dinesh demystified the intricacies of research methodology, exploring both qualitative and quantitative approaches. He covered:

- The fundamental principles of research design, including formulating research questions, selecting appropriate methodologies, and defining data collection techniques.
- A comprehensive overview of quantitative methods, including experimental design, statistical analysis, and interpretation of results.
- The significance and application of qualitative methodologies in research, such as interviews, observations, and document analysis.
- Strategies for effectively combining qualitative and quantitative methods in mixed-method research designs.

Dr. Dinesh's presentation was enriched with real-world examples and case studies from his own research, showcasing the practical application of different research methodologies in diverse scientific fields. He emphasized the importance of choosing the appropriate method based on the research question and highlighting the strengths and limitations of both qualitative and quantitative approaches. Following the presentation, an engaging Q&A session allowed participants to delve deeper into specific aspects of research methodology, address their concerns, and seek further guidance on tackling challenges in their own research endeavors. Dr. P. Praneetha, the coordinator, expressed her gratitude to all participants and speakers for their valuable contributions to the seminar's success.

Report on IPR Roadmap from Bench to Commercialization

Date: 8th December 2021, Venue: Auditorium, SNVPMV, Number of Participants: 50

SNVPMV hosted a thought-provoking seminar titled "IPR Roadmap from Bench to Commercialization" on December 8th, 2021, in the college auditorium. The seminar, meticulously organized by the Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry under the guidance of Dr. S. Anuradha, aimed to equip students, researchers, and faculty with a comprehensive understanding of the strategic role of intellectual property (IPR) in transforming scientific discoveries into successful commercial ventures.

Dr. A. Kalyan Chakravarthy, a renowned expert with extensive experience at Dr. Reddy's Labs, graced the occasion as the keynote speaker. In his insightful presentation, Dr. Chakravarthy demystified the intricate journey from scientific innovation through intellectual property protection and market commercialization. He covered:

- Identifying and assessing the intellectual property potential of promising research findings.
- Navigating the various types of intellectual property protection, including patents, trademarks, and copyrights.
- Formulating an effective IPR strategy to maximize the value and competitiveness of research advancements.
- Effectively managing and leveraging intellectual property assets for securing funding, collaborations, and market access.
- Overcoming the challenges and navigating the complexities of the global IPR landscape.

Dr. Chakravarthy's presentation was enriched with real-world examples and case studies from Dr. Reddy's Labs, offering participants a practical glimpse into the workings of a successful pharmaceutical company. He emphasized the importance of aligning scientific research with market needs and strategic IPR planning to bridge the gap between the lab and the commercial world. Following the presentation, an engaging Q&A session provided participants with the opportunity to address specific questions and concerns surrounding IPR protection, commercialization strategies, and navigating the competitive pharmaceutical market.

Dr. S. Anuradha, the coordinator, expressed her gratitude to all participants and speakers for their valuable contributions to the seminar's success.

Report on Seminar on Entrepreneurship in Pharma: Overcoming Challenges and Seizing Opportunities in a Dynamic Industry

Date: 20th December 2021, Venue: Auditorium, SNVPMV, Number of Participants: 50

Keynote Speaker:

- Mr. Nageswara Gupta Manepalli, Managing Director, Suraksha Pharma Pvt. Ltd., Ameerpet, Hyderabad.

SNVPMV successfully hosted an inspiring seminar titled "Entrepreneurship in Pharma: Overcoming Challenges and Seizing Opportunities in a Dynamic Industry" on December 20th, 2021, in the college auditorium. The seminar, meticulously organized by the Department of Pharmaceutics under the guidance of Dr. N. Srinivas, aimed to equip students, researchers, and aspiring entrepreneurs with the insights and strategies required to navigate the challenging yet rewarding landscape of pharmaceutical entrepreneurship.

Mr. Nageswara Gupta Manepalli, a seasoned entrepreneur and Managing Director of Suraksha Pharma Pvt. Ltd., graced the occasion as the keynote speaker. In his compelling presentation, Mr. Manepalli drew upon his extensive experience to present a realistic and practical blueprint for success in the pharma industry. He covered:

- The dynamic nature of the pharmaceutical market and the emerging trends shaping its future.
- Key challenges faced by pharma entrepreneurs, including regulatory hurdles, funding limitations, and competitive pressures.
- Entrepreneurial skills and strategies required to navigate these challenges, such as innovation, strategic partnerships, and building a resilient business model.
- Identifying and seizing opportunities in niche markets, leveraging technological advancements, and adapting to evolving industry regulations.

Following the presentation, an engaging Q&A session provided participants with the opportunity to interact with Mr. Manepalli and seek further guidance on specific challenges and opportunities within the pharma landscape. Dr. N. Srinivas, the coordinator, expressed his gratitude to all participants and speakers for their valuable contributions to the seminar's success.

Report on Seminar on Methodological Challenges in Clinical Pharmacy Research

Date: 22nd February 2022, Venue: Auditorium, SNVPMV, Number of Participants: 50

Keynote Speaker: Dr. A. Ramkishan, Deputy Drugs Controller (India), CDSCO, Hyderabad.

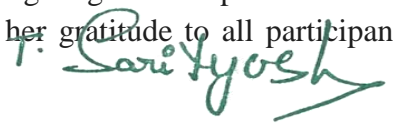

Topic: Methodological Challenges in Clinical Pharmacy Research

SNVPMV hosted a thought-provoking seminar titled "Methodological Challenges in Clinical Pharmacy Research" on February 22nd, 2022, in the college auditorium.

Dr. A. Ramkishan, a renowned expert in drug regulation and clinical research, graced the occasion as the keynote speaker. In his insightful presentation, Dr. Ramkishan delved into the intricacies of clinical research methodology, highlighting the specific challenges faced by pharmacists within this domain. He covered:

- The key stages of clinical drug trials, including protocol design, patient recruitment, data collection, and analysis.
- Common methodological challenges encountered in clinical pharmacy research, such as adherence to ethical guidelines, placebo effects, and bias in data collection.
- Regulatory requirements and guidelines set by CDSCO for ensuring safety, efficacy, and ethical conduct of clinical trials.

Dr. Ramkishan's presentation was enriched with real-world examples and case studies, showcasing the practical application of different research methodologies and highlighting specific challenges encountered by pharmacy professionals. He emphasized the importance of meticulous planning, rigorous adherence to ethical principles, and effective collaboration with clinicians and researchers from diverse disciplines to overcome these challenges and contribute to meaningful clinical research advancement. Following the presentation, an engaging Q&A session provided participants with the opportunity to address specific concerns regarding their own research projects, seek clarification on regulatory requirements, and gain further insights into best practices for navigating the complexities of clinical pharmacy research. Dr. T. Mamatha, the coordinator, expressed her gratitude to all participants and speakers for their valuable contributions to the seminar's success.

Report on Seminar: Significance of IPR

Date: 21-3-2022, Venue: SNVPMV Auditorium

Topic: Significance of Intellectual Property Rights (IPR)

Speaker: Dr. B. Nagaraj, Associate Professor, Department of Pharmaceutics, UCPSc, Kakatiya University, Warangal

This report summarizes the key takeaways from the seminar on "Significance of Intellectual Property Rights (IPR)" held at SNVPMV on 21-3-2022. The seminar, organized by [Organizing Department], featured Dr. B. Nagaraj, a renowned expert in Pharmaceutics from UCPSc, Kakatiya University, Warangal, as the guest speaker. The event was inaugurated by Dr. T. Saritha Jyostna, Principal, and Dr. N. Srinivas, Director, who emphasized the importance of IPR awareness in today's globalized world.

Dr. Nagaraj delivered a comprehensive and engaging presentation on the significance of IPR in various fields, particularly focusing on its critical role in the pharmaceutical industry. He elaborated on the different types of IP, including patents, trademarks, copyrights, and trade secrets, and explained how they can be used to protect innovation and creativity. He highlighted the various benefits of IPR protection, such as:

- Encouraging research and development: By providing inventors with exclusive rights to their creations, IPR encourages investment in research and development, leading to advancements in technology and medicine.
- Boosting economic growth: Strong IPR regimes create a favorable environment for innovation and attract foreign investments, stimulating economic growth and job creation.
- Promoting fair competition: IPR protection ensures a level playing field for businesses, preventing unfair competition and fostering healthy market competition.

Following the presentation, Dr. Nagaraj engaged in a lively Q&A session with the audience, addressing their specific concerns and questions about IPR. The seminar concluded with closing remarks from the Co-ordinator and Chief Guest, who reiterated the significance of IPR awareness and encouraged participants to apply the knowledge gained to their respective fields.

Overall, the seminar on "Significance of IPR" was a valuable learning experience for participants from diverse backgrounds. It provided essential insights into the complex world of intellectual property rights and underscored the importance of IPR protection for fostering innovation, promoting fair competition, and driving economic growth.

- Director: Dr. N. Srinivas

The seminar on Globalization of IPR was held on 7/4/2022 at SNVPMV. The seminar was organized by the Department of Intellectual Property Rights and was co-ordinated by Dr. S. Hemalatha. The keynote speaker was Dr. N. Srinivas, Professor & Director, Sarojini Naidu Vanita Pharmacy Maha Vidyalaya, Tarnaka, Secunderabad. Dr. Srinivas gave a presentation on the globalization of intellectual property rights (IPR), including the challenges and opportunities it presents.

The seminar was presided over by Dr. N. Srinivas, Director, SNVPMV. He welcomed the participants and highlighted the importance of IPR in the global economy. He also stressed the need for countries to cooperate to ensure that IPR is protected and used for the benefit of all.

The seminar was well-attended by students, faculty, and professionals from the city. The participants found the seminar to be informative and helpful. They appreciated the opportunity to learn more about the globalization of IPR and its implications for India.

The event began with a welcome note by the Principal, Dr. Saritha Jyotsna. She thanked the speakers and participants for their presence. She also highlighted the importance of IPR education and awareness.

The seminar was followed by a vote of thanks by the Vice-Principal, Dr. T. Mamatha. She thanked the speakers, participants, and organizers for their efforts. She also expressed her hope that the seminar would help to raise awareness about the globalization of IPR and its importance.

The seminar was a valuable resource for the participants. It provided an opportunity to learn about the challenges and opportunities of the globalization of IPR, and how India can position itself to benefit from it. I would recommend that SNVPMV continue to organize seminars on these topics in the future.

Report on From Idea to Impact: The Journey of an Entrepreneur in the Pharma Industry

Date: 25th April 2022, Venue: Auditorium, SNVPMV, Number of Participants: 50

Keynote Speaker: Mr. V. Satish Kumar, Founder & CEO, Clinoxy Solutions Pvt. Ltd, Hyderabad.

SNVPMV hosted a thought-provoking seminar titled "From Idea to Impact: The Journey of an Entrepreneur in the Pharma Industry" on April 25th, 2022, in the college auditorium. While the specific topic of Mr. V. Satish Kumar's presentation remains unclear from the provided details, the seminar, meticulously organized by the Department of Pharmacology under the guidance of Dr. T. Venu, aimed to provide students, researchers, and faculty with valuable insights and perspectives within the field of pharmacology.

Mr. V. Satish Kumar, a renowned professional in the pharmaceutical industry, graced the occasion as the keynote speaker. His presentation, though the specific topic remains unknown, likely explored current trends, challenges, and opportunities within the domain of pharmacology. He may have covered areas such as:

- Advancements in drug discovery and development.
- The role of technology and innovation in pharmacology research.
- Challenges in drug accessibility and affordability.
- Ethical considerations in clinical trials and drug marketing.
- Career opportunities in the pharmaceutical industry.

Following the presentation, an engaging Q&A session likely provided participants with the opportunity to delve deeper into the discussed topics, seek clarification on specific points, and gain further insights into Mr. Kumar's experiences and expertise.

Dr. T. Venu, the coordinator, expressed his gratitude to all participants and speakers for their active contribution to the seminar's success.
