THE INTERVENTION OF IQAC IN TEACHING LEARNING PROCESS (TLP)

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) plays a crucial role in influencing teaching and learning practices (TLP). SNVPMV has clarity on the direct and indirect impact of IQAC on TLP as distinguished below:

INDIRECT IMPACT:

- Setting Benchmarks and Parameters: IQAC establishes quality standards for various aspects of education, including teaching, learning, and assessment. These benchmarks guide faculty members in developing their courses and teaching methods.
- Promoting Best Practices: IQAC identifies and disseminates information about effective teaching strategies, innovative curriculum design, and assessment techniques. This helps faculty members improve their practices and adopt new approaches.
- Facilitating Faculty Development: IQAC organizes workshops, seminars, and training programs to help faculty members develop their teaching skills and stay updated on new developments in their field.
- Creating a Culture of Continuous Improvement: IQAC encourages a culture of self-reflection and improvement within the institution. This motivates faculty members to regularly evaluate their teaching and strive for better learning outcomes.

DIRECT INTERVENTION:

- Curriculum Review and Revision: IQAC may be directly involved in reviewing and revising the curriculum to ensure it meets the latest standards and learning objectives.
- Monitoring Teaching Performance: IQAC may observe classroom teaching and provide feedback to instructors, but this should be done collaboratively and constructively along with HOD and Principal.

- Enhancing Technology Integration: IQAC can promote the use of technology in teaching and learning by providing resources and training for faculty members.

Some Specific Roles of IQAC in Teaching and Learning Practices

The Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) plays a crucial role in ensuring and enhancing the quality of teaching and learning practices within the institution.

1. Quality Assurance: IQAC is primarily responsible for developing and maintaining quality benchmarks for the academic and administrative activities of the institution. This includes setting standards for teaching methodologies, course content, assessment practices, and learning outcomes.

2. Monitoring and Evaluation: IQAC monitors the implementation of quality enhancement initiatives across departments and programs. It evaluates the effectiveness of teaching and learning practices through various mechanisms such as feedback surveys, student performance analysis, and peer reviews.

3. Continuous Improvement: IQAC fosters a culture of continuous improvement by identifying areas of strengths and weaknesses in teaching and learning processes. It facilitates faculty development programs, workshops, and training sessions to enhance the teaching skills and pedagogical approaches of faculty members.

4. Curriculum Development: IQAC collaborates with academic departments to review and update the curriculum in alignment with industry trends, technological advancements, and academic standards. It ensures that the curriculum remains relevant and responsive to the changing needs of the students and society.

5. Best Practices Dissemination: IQAC serves as a platform for sharing best practices in teaching and learning among faculty members and departments. It encourages the adoption of innovative teaching methods, instructional technologies, and assessment strategies that promote student engagement and achievement.

6. Accreditation and Compliance: IQAC assists the institution in preparing for accreditation processes by accrediting bodies. It ensures compliance with accreditation criteria related to teaching and learning standards, faculty qualifications, infrastructure facilities, and student support services.

7. Stakeholder Engagement: IQAC engages stakeholders including students, alumni, employers, and community members in quality assurance activities related to teaching and learning. It seeks feedback and suggestions from stakeholders to improve the overall educational experience and outcomes.
