Important words by Speakers:

Sri.Sandeep Shandilya Director of anti narcotic baeure gave valuable information

1. A Senior should not force their junior to do something that she is not comfortable doing. Such actions amount to ragging.

2. Ragging can cost people their life. Young and sensitive minds are Impressionalble like fresh snow; what happens to us now stays with is the entire lives. Therefore it is necessary that we don't go overboard with our pranks and talks. There are other nicer ways to getting to know someone than ragging necessarily.

3. "जो तटस्थ हैं, समय लिखेगा उनके भी अपराध"- रामधारी सिंह दिनकर द्वारा रचित 'समर शेष

 $\mathbf{\tilde{g}}$ ' II.e "One that stays neutral will also pay for his sins", is a line from the famous hindi poet Ram dhari Singh Dinkar in his poem 'Samar shesh Hai'. The title of the people translates to 'War is not over yet'. What one needs to understand from this line in the poem is that, we need to voice our disagreement when we see something wrong being done be it ragging or drug abuse otherwise we are equally responsible if we try to ignore it or mask it.

4. Find joy in small things in life and not in drugs. We must appreciate the small but beautiful things in life.

5. '8712671111' is a toll free helpline for public for matters relating to drug and substance abuse. The identity of the informant is kept confidential.

6. Sri nivasa reddy sir-

Drug abuse is a menace to the society. Outside forces use this a tool to destroy the social fabric of our country. A state level body called the Telangana anti narcotics beauru has been established to fight against drug abuse in the state. It's a first of its kind, as no other state in India has a state level anti narcotics beauru.

In the fight against drug abuse, youth should be in the forefront backed by government organizations.

Around 800 people are attended to this event. Both NCC and NSS student volunteers along with them principal's and NSS program officer from different colleges were attended to this event.

" SAY YES TO LIFE, NO TO DRUGS"

"I promise to be drug free, respect others, and help create a safe community."

ACKNOWLEDGMENT

We Thank to TGCHE (The Telangana council higher education) & NSS coordinator Dr. Saween Sowdha sir, for giving us this opportunity.

CONCLUSION

The fight against drug abuse and ragging is crucial for the well-being of future generations. Educating young people about the dangers of drug abuse, fostering strong moral values, and providing supportive environments are essential steps toward prevention. Schools and colleges must enforce strict anti-ragging policies, create awareness campaigns, and promote a culture of respect and empathy.

Future generations must be empowered to make informed choices, reject harmful behaviors, and support their peers in doing the same. By working together, communities, educators, and policymakers can create a safer and healthier environment, ensuring that the youth can thrive without the shadows of drug abuse and ragging.
