The Orientation Day for the newly admitted B. Pharmacy (29th Batch) and Pharm. D (10th Batch) students was held with great enthusiasm at the college auditorium of Sarojini Naidu Vanita Pharmacy Maha Vidyalaya (Co-Ed.), marking the beginning of their professional journey in pharmacy education. The event aimed to familiarize students with the college's ethos, academic structure, and values of excellence and discipline.

The program commenced with the inviting of dignitaries to the stage — Dr. B. Prabha Shankar (Chairman), Sri Rajeshwar Thota (Guest of Honour), Prof. G. Bhagyanarayana (Chief Guest), Sri B. Hanumanth Rao (Hon. Secretary), Smt. Sandhya Deepala (Treasurer), Dr. A. V. Srikanth (Governing Body Member), and Dr. T. Mamatha (Principal) — followed by the lighting of the ceremonial lamp. The prayer song rendered by Ms. Tanmaye and Ms. Sneha of Pharm. D II Year set a serene and auspicious tone for the event.

“A total of 26 Pharm.D students and 77 B.Pharm students, along with their family members, attended the Orientation Day program.”

Welcome Address – Dr. B. Prabha Shankar, Chairman

Dr. B. Prabha Shankar welcomed the gathering and congratulated the newly admitted students. He expressed pride in the college's journey since its inception in 1997 and highlighted its remarkable growth into one of the premier institutions in Telangana and India. He emphasized the college's numerous accreditations — UGC Autonomous Status, NAAC A⁺ Grade, NBA Accreditation, and ISO Certification — and its commitment to providing quality pharmaceutical education with a focus on holistic development.

Dr. Prabha Shankar noted the increasing participation of women in the field of pharmacy and the institution's contribution to women's empowerment. He highlighted the infrastructural advancements, research facilities, hostel amenities, and the encouragement given to extracurricular and co-curricular activities. He also mentioned the Silver Jubilee celebrations, the active Alumni Association, and the availability of Ph.D.-qualified faculty members for academic and research mentoring.

Address by Smt. Sandhya Deepala, Treasurer

contribution to their success. She assured the new entrants that the Governing Body, comprising professionals from various fields, would always be approachable for guidance and support.

Address by Dr. A. V. Srikanth, Governing Body Member

Dr. A. V. Srikanth congratulated the first-year students for being part of the first co-educational batch of SNVPMV. He emphasized the importance of character education and experiential learning, stressing that real education extends beyond textbooks. He urged students to make effective use of the college's resources — library, research software, and mentorship — and assured them that management would always remain accessible to address any unresolved issues.

Address by Sri B. Pradyumna, Governing Body Member

Sri B. Pradyumna expressed that the institution continuously strives to deliver quality education and holistic exposure through expert lectures and professional engagement. He emphasized that the college's objective is not commercial gain but academic excellence, proudly noting that SNVPMV has one of the highest numbers of Ph.D. holders among comparable institutions.

Address by Guest of Honour – Sri Rajeshwar Thota

Sri Rajeshwar Thota, Founder & Principal of InnoTech BioPharm Solutions LLC, Founder & CEO of RSNT BioPharm Inc., and Senior Global Pharmaceutical Executive, addressed the gathering with deep insight and inspiration. Drawing on his 38 years of experience in the global pharmaceutical industry, he encouraged students to nurture curiosity, compassion, integrity, and resilience — qualities he described as the hallmarks of true leadership. He emphasized that pharmacy is not merely a science but a profession of humanity, innovation, and responsibility, influencing how medicines are developed, manufactured, and delivered to society.

Address by Chief Guest – Prof. G. Bhagyanarayana

Prof. G. Bhagyanarayana, Former Vice-Chancellor of Palamuru University and Vice-President of Osmania Graduates Association, Hyderabad, delivered an inspiring and engaging address to the students. He explained that the Orientation Program was designed to help new entrants adapt to their academic environment and gain confidence under the guidance of experienced mentors.

into a center of academic excellence and women's empowerment. He spoke passionately about the pharmacy profession, reminding students that while "Vaidyo Narayana Hari" praises the doctor for saving lives, it is the pharmacist who prepares and perfects the medicines — a role equally divine and essential.

He advised students to have faith in themselves, to be disciplined and consistent in their studies, and to avoid comparing themselves with others. Emphasizing that marks are not the true measure of intelligence, he encouraged them to value confidence, curiosity, and perseverance.

To motivate the students, he narrated the inspiring journey of Dr. Radha Vaddavalli, his former Ph.D. student from Bhimavaram. Despite losing her mother to cancer and facing infrastructural limitations, Dr. Radha pursued her research on cancer biology with determination, collaborating with NIN, CCMB, and Hyderabad Central University. Her pioneering work across phytochemistry, microbial antagonism, and computer-aided drug design culminated in significant scientific findings. After earning her Ph.D., she completed postdoctoral research at the Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore, and later continued her career in cancer research in the United States.

Prof. Bhagyanarayana commended her perseverance and urged students to emulate her spirit of resilience and dedication. He concluded by reminding them that their achievements would bring pride not only to themselves but also to their parents, teachers, and the institution.

Vote of Thanks – Sri B. Hanumanth Rao, Hon. Secretary

In his concluding remarks, Sri B. Hanumanth Rao expressed gratitude to all dignitaries, faculty members, parents, and student volunteers for their participation and contribution to the successful conduct of the program. He acknowledged the Exhibition Society for its consistent support and for providing excellent facilities to the college. He also reminded parents about the challenges related to the government's fee reimbursement scheme and assured that the institution continues to uphold its standards despite financial constraints.

He congratulated students on joining a reputed and well-equipped institution with highly

Afternoon Session

The afternoon session featured a series of insightful addresses by the Principal, Director, Vice-Principal, Heads of Departments, and senior faculty members, aimed at introducing students to the academic vision, departmental strengths, welfare initiatives, and the vibrant learning culture of the institution.

Dr. T. Mamatha, Principal and Head of the Department of Quality Assurance, shared her vision for holistic education and emphasized the importance of discipline, dedication, and student-centered learning. She encouraged students to maintain a healthy balance between academics and extracurricular pursuits while upholding the core values of SNVPMV.

Dr. N. Srinivas, Director and Head of the Department of Regulatory Affairs, outlined the academic roadmap and elaborated on the benefits of the autonomous structure. He explained how autonomy enables innovation in curriculum design, promotes flexibility, and enhances opportunities for research and professional growth.

Dr. B. Haarika, Vice-Principal and Head of the Department of Pharmaceutics, spoke about student welfare initiatives and campus life. She also introduced the various student clubs and activity forums that function within the college, highlighting their role in fostering creativity, teamwork, and leadership among students. She assured the gathering that SNVPMV provides a nurturing and inclusive environment that serves as a “second home” for every student.

Dr. T. Venu, Vice-Principal and Head of the Department of Pharmacology, motivated students to adopt analytical thinking and an ethical approach in research and experimentation. He encouraged them to make the best use of the available research infrastructure for deeper scientific exploration.

Dr. P. Vivek Sagar, Head of the Department of Pharmaceutical Analysis, emphasized the importance of analytical precision, scientific rigor, and adherence to good laboratory practices as
