Seminar on: Inculcating Entrepreneurship Mindset in Pharma Students
Organized by the Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry in association with Alumni

Venue: SNVPMV Auditorium
Date: 29/04/2025 at 11:00 AM
Guest Speaker: Mrs. Lalitha Madhuri Adibhatla
Founder, VKDP Life Sciences & Alumni of SNVPMV

Number Of Students Attended: 146

The Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry, in collaboration with the Alumni Association, organized a seminar titled "Inculcating Entrepreneurship Mindset in Pharma Students" on the 29th of April 2025, at the SNVPMV Auditorium.

The event was graced by the presence of our respected Vice Principal Dr. B. Haarika, Principal Dr. T. Mamatha, and Director Dr. N. Srinivas. Anchoring duties were carried out by K. Lakshmi Bhavana and Aastha Singh, both B. Pharm 4th-year students, who hosted the event with enthusiasm and confidence.

The program commenced at 11:00 AM with the dignitaries being invited onto the dais, followed by the presentation of eco-greetings to the speaker, Mrs. Lalitha Madhuri Adibhatla, by Ms. Keerthi of B. Pharm final year. A soulful prayer song was rendered by P.N.M. Srilalitha Jahnvi and N. Sai Keerthi, setting a serene tone for the event.

Dr. T. Mamatha welcomed the gathering with her address, followed by Dr. N. Srinivas who inspired the students with his words. Ms. G. Pallavi introduced the speaker with great respect and detail.

Mrs. Lalitha Madhuri then took over the session, delivering a thought-provoking and motivating talk on the importance of developing an entrepreneurial mindset among pharmacy students. She emphasized how innovation, creativity, and risk-taking are crucial traits for success in the pharmaceutical industry, regardless of whether one chooses to start a venture or work within established organizations.

Key Note:

In a world where innovation is the currency of progress, entrepreneurship is no longer optional—it's essential. This seminar explored how pharmacy students can evolve from passive professionals to active problem-solvers and industry leaders.

Mrs. Lalitha Madhuri shed light on:

- What entrepreneurship truly means: Not just starting businesses, but turning ideas into action that creates social and economic value.
- Real-world pharma examples of entrepreneurial thinking: from AI in drug discovery to eco-friendly manufacturing, and personalized medicine.
- Identifying opportunities through market analysis, unmet needs, R&D, digital disruption, and regulatory strategy.
- Creating value holistically: improving healthcare access, advancing public health, boosting local economies, and driving sustainability.

She emphasized that the entrepreneurial mindset—rooted in growth, resilience, innovation, and value creation—is the future of pharmacy. Whether students become founders, researchers, or intrapreneurs in pharma firms, this mindset will empower them to lead.

Closing with her personal journey, she shared milestones including the Stri Shakti Award 2025, recognizing her impactful work in entrepreneurship. Her success story stands as a beacon of inspiration for students to dream big, start small, and act now.

The seminar also included an interactive query session where students eagerly posed questions, reflecting their engagement and curiosity. The event concluded with a felicitation ceremony for the speaker by the dignitaries, recognizing her valuable insights and contributions.

The Vote of Thanks was proposed by Dr. S. Hemalatha, Professor and HOD of the Department of Pharmaceutical Chemistry, who expressed gratitude towards the speaker, dignitaries, organizing team, and all attendees. The event concluded with the National Anthem followed by a group photo session involving faculty and students.

The seminar proved to be a highly enriching and inspiring experience for all participants, fostering a sense of innovation and entrepreneurial vision among budding pharmacy professionals.
