CIRCULAR ORIENTATION DAY 2026-27

Date: 07-10-2026 (Wednesday) Time: 10:00 A.M. onwards Venue: SNVPMV Auditorium

This is to inform all the newly admitted students of B. Pharmacy and Pharm. D, along with their parents, faculty members and non-teaching staff, that the Orientation Day for the academic year 2026-27 will be held on 7th October 2026 at 10:00 A.M.

The event will be presided over by our honorable Chairman, Dr. B. Prabha Shankar.

Orientation Day introduces new students to our institution's academic culture, curriculum, facilities and code of conduct.

Participants:

- Newly admitted B. Pharmacy and Pharm. D students (attendance mandatory)
- Parents of newly admitted students (cordially invited)
- Teaching and Non-Teaching Staff Members

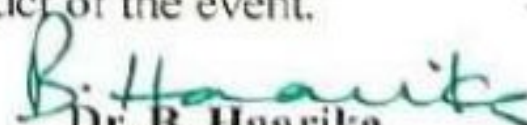

Core Objectives:

- Welcome and Integration: Formally receive incoming students and their parents into the institution's community.
- Academic Familiarization: Give a full overview of the B. Pharmacy and Pharm. D course structures, curriculum and examination patterns.
- Campus Awareness: Introduce students to institutional facilities, laboratories, libraries, support systems and the mandatory code of conduct.

Expected Impact:

- Smooth Academic Transition: New students will begin their courses with clear expectations, reducing initial anxiety and academic confusion.
- Stronger Stakeholder Trust: Meeting the leadership reassures parents of the institution's commitment to quality education and student safety.
- Immediate Community Building: The event encourages early interaction among peers, senior faculty and staff, laying the groundwork for a supportive and collaborative learning environment.

All newly admitted students are required to attend the programme without fail. All faculty and staff members are requested to make the necessary arrangements and ensure the smooth conduct of the event.

B. PHARM & PHARM D ORIENTATION DAY–2026

B. Pharmacy & Pharm. D Students

7th October 2026 | Auditorium, SNVPMV (Co-Ed.) | 10:30 AM onwards

1. Programme Overview

Sarojini Naidu Vanita Pharmacy Maha Vidyalaya (Co-Ed.) executed an Orientation Day–2026 functioning as an introductory initiative for the 2026–27 academic session, welcoming to newly admitted B. Pharmacy and Pharm. D candidates. The event took place on 7th October 2026 at the institution's Auditorium, commencing at 10:30 AM.

The event was structured to receive students, introduce institutional governance structures and academic frameworks, articulate professional and ethical expectations, illuminate research and career development prospects, and orient students to academic divisions, laboratory facilities, and college infrastructure. The formal itinerary incorporated the opening ceremony, ceremonial observance, institutional leadership addresses, academic and administrative orientation sessions, the Pharmacist Oath recitation, departmental presentations, campus facility tours, and student feedback collection, facility visits and student feedback.

2. Objectives

- To cordially receive recently admitted B. Pharmacy and Pharm. D cohort.
- To acquaint students with SNVPMV's organizational framework, academic organization and institutional standards.
- To communicate academic policies, procedural guidelines, assessment protocols and student support services.
- To present information regarding professional development opportunities, career placement services, accreditation standards and quality assurance initiatives.
- To inspire students to pursue research endeavors, foster innovation, advance their professional capabilities and uphold ethical standards in pharmaceutical practice.
- To provide students with comprehensive knowledge of academic departments, teaching personnel, research facilities and available institutional resources.
- To gather student perspectives and feedback regarding the orientation experience.

3. Address by Dr. Hyma

Governance of the Institution – Exhibition Society & Governing Body

Esteemed guests, faculty members, and cherished students, SNVPMV operates with the backing of the Exhibition Society and the stewardship of its Governing Body. Students should recognize that institutional governance provides essential direction for maintaining academic standards, managing administrative operations, developing infrastructure, and fostering research innovation and student progression.

The management team, academic leaders, and faculty members work in concert to cultivate an enabling educational atmosphere. She shared her perspective on the Exhibition Society in these terms: "The Exhibition Society, Hyderabad, established in 1938, is a purpose-driven non-profit organization committed to education, industrial advancement, entrepreneurial growth, healthcare delivery, and societal progress. Its cornerstone initiative is the All India Industrial Exhibition (AIIE), popularly known as Numaish, which provides an integrated platform for manufacturing enterprises, micro and small enterprises, traditional artisans, and business creators to exhibit and market their commodities.

The Society provides institutional backing to 20 educational organizations in Telangana, impacting approximately 30,000 students through specialized, technical, and comprehensive educational offerings. It actively promotes competency development, employment generation, entrepreneurial endeavors, and cost-effective educational access."

I encourage all students to demonstrate responsible engagement with the opportunities and facilities extended by the institution and to contribute constructively to advancing its academic culture.

4. Management and Governing Body Addresses

4.1. Welcome Address by Sri B. Hanumanth Rao, Hon. Secretary, SNVPMV (Co-Ed.)

Esteemed Chairman, members of the Governing Body, Principal, faculty colleagues, and valued students, we extend our warmest welcome to SNVPMV. The Exhibition Society has consistently demonstrated a commitment to service, with education serving as a cornerstone of our organizational mission. All students are required to uphold discipline, ensure consistent attendance, demonstrate professional behavior, and adhere to institutional policies. We encourage you to fully leverage the academic, research, and professional development resources available to you. I extend my best wishes to all incoming students for a fulfilling and accomplished academic experience.

4.2. Governing Body Member's Address

A. V. Srikanth, Governing Body Member, SNVPMV (Co-Ed.)

Distinguished Chairman, esteemed members of the management team, faculty colleagues, and valued students, I extend my warmest welcome as we embark on this new academic year. Our Governing Body remains steadfastly committed to upholding academic excellence and fostering institutional advancement. The Exhibition Society serves as a vital platform delivering essential services to our academic community. I urge students in particular to prioritize research endeavors with utmost dedication. Cultivate proficiency in literature review, research methodology, data analysis, and scientific communication. Engage actively in interdisciplinary and industry-focused initiatives whenever opportunities arise. Exceptional research must embody ethical principles, demonstrate reliability, and maintain relevance to contemporary challenges. I extend my best wishes for your continued success throughout your academic and research pursuits.

5. Academic and Administrative Orientation

5.1 Academics, General Rules & Regulations

Dr. B. Haarika, Principal

Welcome to SNVPMV. Commit to regular attendance, respect the scheduled timetable, deliver assignments and practical work within deadlines, and comprehend the academic regulations at the beginning of your studies. Engage actively with the library, laboratories, and digital resources. Demonstrate discipline, maintain academic integrity, and exhibit professional behaviour throughout your programme.

5.2. Holistic Development

Dr. K. Neelima, Vice-Principal

Professional growth encompasses far more than academic credentials. Strengthen your communication abilities, teamwork capabilities, leadership potential, time management skills, and ethical reasoning. Actively participate in co-curricular, extracurricular, professional, and community engagement activities. Pursue the goal of becoming a competent, responsible, and well-rounded pharmacy professional.

5.3 Training & Placements

Dr. N. Srinivas, Director – Corporate Affairs, Admissions & Placement

Career readiness should commence during your initial semester. Cultivate technical expertise, enhance communication proficiency, strengthen presentation capabilities, master resume development, and refine interview techniques. Leverage workshops, facility tours, practical internships, professional seminars, and recruitment initiatives to gain insight into pharmaceutical industry requirements.

5.4 Accreditations of the Institution

Dr. T. Mamatha, Dean Evaluation

Quality constitutes an unending journey of enhancement. SNVPMV has instituted comprehensive quality frameworks, validated through institutional accreditations and quality-driven programs. Students represent essential stakeholders participating in this system. Reliable attendance, engaged academic involvement, thoughtful feedback contributions, disciplinary compliance, and successful outcomes collectively reinforce institutional quality standards and enable ongoing development.

5.5 Examination System

Dr. S. Muni Sireesha, Controller of Examinations

Learners must familiarize themselves with the examination schedule, continuous evaluation methods, qualification criteria, and testing protocols. It is essential to uphold examination conduct standards and ethical academic practices. Should questions arise regarding examination matters, students should consult the examination department following the established guidelines.

5.6 Student Affairs

Smt. Navneetha, Administrative Officer

The student affairs office ensures students navigate their academic and administrative responsibilities effectively. It is essential to keep your documentation current, comply with formal institutional protocols, and thoroughly examine official announcements. Should you require support or need clarification on any matter, direct your inquiries to the administration through the appropriate official channels.

7.0 Departmental Sessions and Facility Visit

After lunch, the official schedule provides departmental presentations from 2:00 PM to 3:00 PM, with respective HODs introducing their departments and faculty. This is followed by a visit to departmental laboratories and general college facilities from 3:00 PM to 3:30 PM. The programme concludes with feedback on satisfaction and happiness perception from 3:30 PM to 3:45 PM.

The departmental presentations should briefly cover the programme structure, faculty expertise, research areas, laboratory facilities, project opportunities, seminars, industrial exposure, and student mentoring and professional opportunities. The facility visit should familiarize students with the learning and research infrastructure.

8.0 Pharmacist Oath

The Pharmacist Oath was administered by Dr. K. Neelima, Vice-Principal, from 12:55 PM to 1:00 PM. The oath emphasized the professional responsibilities, ethical values and commitment expected from students entering the pharmacy profession.

9. Short Vote of Thanks

Mrs. R.V.S. Lathasree, HOD – Department of IT & Allied Subjects

On behalf of SNVPMV, I sincerely thank the Chairman, management and Governing Body members for their guidance and support. I thank the Principal, Vice-Principal, Deans, Directors, and HODs, faculty members, administrative staff and organizing team for their contribution. I also thank our speakers and students for their active participation. I warmly welcome the new M.Pharmacy and Pharm. D students and wish them a successful academic journey. Thank you. Followed by National anthem.

10. Expected Outcomes

- New students understand the institution, its governance and academic culture.

Students are aware of academic, examination, discipline and administrative

- expectations.
- Students understand the importance of professional ethics and service.
- Students are introduced to research, innovation and industry interaction.
- Students become aware of training and placement opportunities.

- Students become familiar with departments, faculty, laboratories and facilities.
- Student feedback is obtained for improving future orientation programmes.

10. Expected Impact

The Orientation Day–2026 provided a structured introduction to SNVPMV for the 79 newly admitted students of B.Pharmacy and Pharm.D. The programme helped students understand the institution's academic structure, governance, rules and regulations, examination system, accreditation practices, research opportunities, training and placement activities, and student support systems. The interaction with the management, Governing Body, Principal, faculty and administrative representatives helped establish a clear understanding of institutional expectations and professional responsibilities.

The departmental presentations and laboratory visit familiarized students with their academic departments and facilities. Overall, the programme created a positive beginning to the students' academic journey and motivated them towards academic excellence, research, professional development and responsible service to society.

11. Conclusion

The Orientation Day 07-10-2026 / Introduction Programme 2026–27 was successfully conducted for the newly admitted B. Pharmacy and Pharm D students of SNVPMV. A total of 79 students reported and participated in the orientation programme. The programme provided students with an introduction to the institution, its governance structure, academic regulations, examination system, accreditation and quality initiatives, training and placement opportunities, research activities and student support systems. The interaction with the Chairman, Secretary, Treasurer, Governing Body Member, Principal, Vice-Principal, faculty and administrative representatives helped students understand the expectations and opportunities available at SNVPMV. The departmental presentations and laboratory visit further familiarized the students with their respective departments and facilities. Overall, the programme provided a meaningful beginning to the academic journey of the 79 students and encouraged them to pursue academic excellence, research, professional development and responsible service to society.
